

Autism-Specialist Counsellors Needed

The pandemic has affected the emotional health of us all, but especially affected have been the autistic community comprising of individuals who struggle to cope with uncertainty.

As a consequence of these difficult times, Action for Asperger's workload has grown considerably. We are seeking applications from qualified counsellors who a) have an experiential background of working with autistic individuals and/or b) have familial experience of autism and/or c) have a strong affinity for learning more about working with lives affected by autism/Asperger's syndrome.

Our expectation is that you would work with a minimum of 3 clients per week via video consults mainly, although we are also keen to recruit counsellors who can consult clients in person at our North Northamptonshire HQ in Corby, or at our branch consulting room in Wollaston, South Northamptonshire. Remunerated in-house training and supervision is provided.
